

Precix Precision Six-String Guitars

Greene & Campbell has married technology and New England craftsmanship in the production of affordable, precision six-string guitars.

Building on the best of the old classics, The Precix sets a new standard for the 21st century. The body is crafted from handpicked regional hardwoods, and the maple and ebony neck is graphite reinforced. Combined with a string-through-body bridge, the structure delivers amazing sustain.

The Seymour Duncan pickups are versatile and responsive, offering a wide range of tones. Straightforward controls offer maximum versatility -- the mixing control allows you to choose either the neck or the bridge pickup, or any combination of the two. The volume control is designed to maintain the high and low frequencies at low levels, and the tone control employs a push/pull coil tap switch for single coil operation.

The Precix is tight, responsive, and ready to exceed all expectations.
