

Portabass Cabinets

The stairway.

The long walk from the parking lot.

The revolving door of the hotel.

The crowded night club full of cabaret tables.

These are just a few of the obstacles that most working bass players have to maneuver night after night. You need lightweight, efficient, room-filling cabinets that produce the full range of tones of larger cabinets, yet are still portable. You need PortaBass enclosures.

The PortaBass enclosures employ a new speaker design that does away with traditional heavy magnets and baskets. Using special, lightweight Neodymium magnets, these speakers deliver incredible power and volume. The cabinets are constructed of a high-quality Italian poplar plywood that resonates sonically enhancing your bass tone, yet is amazingly lightweight and easy to move. The PB-110H and PB-112H are great tone boxes, and the PB-210H is a 400 watt powerhouse that tips the scales at just under 33 pounds! The removeable telescoping dolly-style handle allows you to load and “roll” to the stage, even if you’re already carrying your upright bass.

Now with PortaBass...there are no obstacles to full powerful tone or the stage.
