With most music flooding the airwaves today seemingly calculated and soulless, many think the last nail has been hammered into the coffin of rock n' roll. Computer-created cookie-cutter music has all but replaced the old school way of plug in, turn the amp up ... and play. Don't perpetuate this myth. Stop by one of the live music clubs showcased in this catalog any night of the week and you will find that rock n' roll is alive and loud! Seeing a band give thier all in front of twenty people or 2000 people is what rock n' roll is meant to be.

What does all this have to do with Schecter? We have grown from a small custom shop to one of the biggest names in the music industry, due in no small part to the support of the bands that toil night after night in these very clubs. Yes, we have our high profile rock star endorsees.. but these guys did not start at the "Enormo-dome." Many of them also played every club from Corona, CA to upstate New York.

I am convinced that you can't design and build a great guitar unless you live and breath music. We do just that. Our staff here at Schecter is a melting pot of styles. From Metal to Punk to Texas blues, and everything in between. This versatility in styles, look and musical taste is reflected in our 2008 line. From the most popular metal guitar on the market, The Hellraiser, to the post-punk jangle of the new Stargazer... Schecter is a microcosm of what Rock and Roll is and what it should always be.
