IMAGES

I have arranged the links to show all available images of each of my body styles and designs. Click on a link and it will give you a selection of instruments to choose from.

The thing to remember about these images is that they are projects that have been done for someone else. Each instrument is designed for the owner...truly custom made. This is my interpretation of what they required in the function, tone and appearance of their project. Use these images as a guide in choosing the body design or Series that appeals to you as a platform from which we will design your own personal instrument. All of our options and details are available on all of our designs.

You will find that the some individual instruments will be represented in more than one category.

To find out what the options and possibilities are, look here.
